Heavy Advance in Mining Stocks in San Francisco.

SANTA ANA FLOWER FESTIVAL.

Grand Officers of United Order of Honor Elected—The United Friends Diminishing.

Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17.—Mining stocks to-day were active and higher. The reason for this is stated to be that control has been obtained over the fire which has been smouldering in one of the lower levels of the Consolidated California and Virginia mine for some years past. Consolidated California and Virginia was the leading stock. It opened this morning at $20, touched $24.50, and closed at $23, an advance of $4.37½ from yesterday's close. Best & Belcher showed an advance of $1.50, Ophir $1.75, Sierra Nevada $1.25. Other stocks also shared in the advance. The market closed firm, with heavy sales.

SANTA ANA.

Opening of the Flower Festival. Railroad Rumors.

[Special Dispatch to the HERALD.]

SANTA ANA, Cal., May 17.—Just preceeding the opening of the floral fair the correspondent of the HERALD visited Spurgeon's pavilion, making observations of what was to be seen; manner of work and who was doing it. Throughout the pavilion hundreds of fair hands are busily engaged in making flower pieces. The building is handsomely decorated, some of the booths are bewitchingly beautiful. The conservatory is a bower of beauty and loveliness, and the many designs and pieces here seen excel all efforts heretofore made in these directions. Turning to the left as you enter the hall the first attraction that meets your eye is the Tustin booth, represented by a bevy of handsome young ladies, who are only too eager to bestow on you their different wares for sale. This particular booth attracts universal attention on account of its striking beauty and its many unique designs of floral pieces. The surrounding towns of Orange, Newport and Westminster will each be represented by a booth with a delegation of ladies from each place. Competition between the different ladies of each town is becoming lively as to which booth will receive the palm for beauty. The pavilion was crowded to its utmost capacity this evening, when the band took its position in the hall and played some of Strauss' favorite waltzes. It goes without saying that there is not a county in the State, considering size and population that can produce more flowers or as many different varieties, as this section of the county. Santa Ana, Tustin and Orange gardens are laden with these beautiful offsprings of dame nature. Never in the history of this end of the county has there ever been a larger or more brilliant assemblage of wealth, beauty and fashion. The decorations and general beauty excite the wonder and admiration of all.

RAILROAD RUMORS.

The report that the S. P. Co's surveyors had abandoned any further surveys south of San Juan Capistrano is premature and wrong. The surveyors are continuing their surveys in a southerly direction. At present they are at Onifre creek, on the Santa Margueretta ranch, and it is reliably reported that by a heavy expenditure of coin they can parallel the A., T. & S. F. R. R. through from San Juan Capistrano to San Diego. The work of grading on the A., T. & S. F. branch continues active, and good progress is being made. The section through which the road runs opens up a fine new country—agricultural land, fruit and orange and vineyard lands, and some of the best lands in Southern California. Many new towns are being laid out—one at Buena Park. A branch line will run to the east from this point. Surveyors are laying out the town with a 110 foot avenue, and fountains and parks.

Cox, Grand Conductor, San Francisco; Nancy A. Anderson, C. I. Guard, Oakland; Themas Sewell, G. O. Guard, San Francisco; J. D. Hartley, Grand Medical Director, San Francisco; Grand Trustee, Duncan McPherson, Santa Cruz; John T. Hayes, H. W. Macharos, San Francisco; Supreme Representatives, N. J. Bird, Nellie L. Wilkins, alternate, San Francisco.

United Order of Honor.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17.—The grand lodge of the United Order of Honor began its second annual session this morning in the Alcazar building. The report of the grand president showed a prosperous state of the order. The grand secretary reported that the total membership of the order in the State was 1973.

United Friends Falling Off.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17.—The annual session of the Grand Council, Order of United Friends of the Pacific, opened this forenoon in the B'nai Brith building, Grand Vice-Councillor Josselin presiding. There were seventy-five delegates from subordinate councils in attendance. The membership of the order, as shown by the annual reports, has fallen off 1069 during the year, the present membership being 4533.

Electrical Phenomena.

OROVILLE, Cal., May 17.—Sunday evening lightning struck the telephone line at a point about six miles this side of Oroville. Fifteen poles, covering a distance of 3000 feet, were knocked from their position, and six of that number were shattered into small fragments.

Healdsburg Camp.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17.—Healdsburg has been selected as the camping place for the Second brigade, N. G. C.

IRRIGATION.

Judge Cross will Settle the Seventy-Six Matter.

TULARE, Cal., May 17.—There has been considerable feeling over the Seventy-Six Canal, at Kings river, between Samuel Fowler and Timothy Page. Fowler tapped the canal to irrigate his lands, and Page objected and brought suit against him. The case was brought up in the Superior Court yesterday before Judge Cross, who stated he would not take any more adjudications on the matter, and the waters were to be used in as many ways as were wanted, as there was plenty of water for all. The stream now is overflowing its bank. He also stated that he would give sentence in the case on Tuesday next, and that it would be very light, when it is hoped all trouble will be settled. All is quiet there now.

THE GOLD FEVER.

It Depopulates a San Luis Obispo County Town.

SAN LUIS OBISPO, May 17.—The gold fever engendered by the exciting reports from the recently discovered mine north of the San Carpojoree river, in southwestern Monterey county, has almost stilled the wheels of business in the town of Cambria, in this county. Nearly all the leading men of this place have gone to locate mining claims. Samples of ore brought into Cambria are said to evidence the richness of the find, and men with tents and provisions are constantly pursuing the trail to the mining districts.

BRUTAL MURDER.

A Desperado Kills an Inoffensive Old Man.

TOMBSTONE, May 17.—A brutal murder was committed here this evening about 6 o'clock. Jerry Barton, a noted desperado who has figured in many shooting scrapes, struck an old, inoffensive citizen, named Ed. Swift, and killed him. Swift was well known in California, having several children at present in San Francisco. Barton is confined in the county jail, and excitement over the affair is intense. Barton has killed several men in his day.

Jumped from a Bridge.

YUMA, May 17.—This afternoon John Brennen attempted suicide by jumping from the bridge at this point into the Colorado river. Upon reaching the water he cut his throat with a pocket knife, nearly severing the windpipe and narrowly missing the jugular vein. Two Cocopah Indians immediately put out for him in a small boat, and after some trouble succeeded in getting him from the water. It is not certain whether he will survive or not. The reason for committing the rash act, as given by him subsequently, was that he has been troubled with pains in the head and was simply tired of living. He was not destitute, having $46 in coin upon his person.

Railroads Begin Boycotting.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17.—It is said here that the transcontinental roads will join in a boycott against the American connections of the Canadian Pacific road, because they are carrying freight to them by the Canadian Pacific at a lower pro rata than that carried by them for Pacific Coast roads, though the tonnage offered by the latter is much larger than that of the Canadian Pacific. The roads used by the Canadian Pacific in entering the territory of American overland lines are the St. Paul, Minneapolis and Manitoba, the St. Paul and Omaha, and the Kansas City and St. Joseph.

The Scrogginses in Trouble.

MERCED, May 17.—The register of the County Jail to-day shows the incarceration of a whole family, with the exception of the mother, who could be seen sitting in the ante-room of the jail, weeping for her wayward children, who have all arrived at the period of maturity. The following are their names, and the charges against each: George Scroggins, grand larceny; James Scroggins, assault with a deadly weapon; West Scroggins, malicious mischief; Dick Osborn Scroggins, misdemeanor, and Mary Arthur Scroggins, battery.

Discharged.

MONTEREY, May 17.—Townsend Hall, an aged man, who was arrested on a charge of shooting William Hansen, in the Sur country, was examined to-day and discharged, as there was not sufficient evidence found to hold him. Dissatisfaction is expressed with the result. The wounded man is still delirious, and if he dies without recovering his faculties the matter will remain a mystery. No weapon was found about Hansen's place, or anything to point toward the theory of suicide.

Broke His Neck.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17.—David Regensberger, Assistant District Attorney of Judge Murphy's court, met with a fatal accident at the Rossmore House, 304 Stockton street, this afternoon at 4 o'clock. He was at the door of the elevator shaft and fell to the bottom. Dr. Whitney was called and announced that Regensberger had broken his neck and could not live more than a few moments. Regensberger was a bright and popular young lawyer. He lately distinguished himself in the Goldenson murder trial.

Uncle Sam Wants Poles.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17.—The schooner Undaunted, which arrived from Kodiak, Alaska, on Saturday, with a load of spruce poles, was yesterday seized by the United States officers on the charge of illegally cutting timber in Alaska. This is the third seizure within a few months for violation of the timber laws relating to Alaska.

Missouri Regiment Disbands.

JEFFERSON CITY, May 17.—Owing to the refusal of the Legislature to appropriate funds for the support of the militia, the First regiment of the National Bancd Guards of Missouri, will disband May 25th.

Another New Town.

In the real estate sales yesterday appears the sale of the magnificent property of L. H. Titus, adjoining the famous Sunny Slope orchard and vineyard in the San Gabriel Valley, for the handsome sum of $212,500. The purchaser, Mr. J. P. Sanborn, has purchased a large amount of land in the vicinity of the Titus property, and with the fine water supply of that property will proceed to lay out a townsite in the center of the San Gabriel Valley. The readers of the HERALD will be fully informed of the future operations of the new project.

EASTERN.

Carnegie Defines His Republican Politics.

BORN AS FREE AS CÆSAR.

Los Angeles Woman Appeals to a Governor—Fred Grant to Have Pie—Los Angeles Wins.

Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.

NEW YORK, May 17.—The following letter has created quite a sensation among the Anglo-maniacs in this city. Andrew Carnegie having been requested to attend preliminary meetings and at a later date to contribute to a fund for the proposed celebration of the Queen's Jubilee in New York, addressed the following reply to the treasurer of the fund, John Patton, a banker.—My Dear Sir: There are several good reasons why I cannot subscribeto or sympathize with the proposed jubilee. First, I am an American citizen and a very staunch Republican-American, who regards the monarchical idea as inconsistent with and insulting to his manhood. I should stultify myself were I to celebrate the reign of any hereditary ruler. I was born as free as Cæsar. Second, I am at a loss to see what naturalized American citizens have to do with celebrating the reign of any sovereign monarch. If they are not loyal Republicans and true to the land of their adoption it is open to them at all times to leave its shores and find homes elsewhere. The Republic deserves to be served by citizens true to the fundamental idea upon which her political institutions are based. In conclusion, my dear Patton, our fellow-countrymen must celebrate something. Let me suggest to them that the proper day for a political demonstration in New York is the Fourth of July. On that day let them pray that the day is not far distant when our less favored countrymen at home shall share with us the blessings of our institutions, founded upon the political equality of citizens; the day when hereditary privilege will be unknown and when the government of the people, by the people and for the people, will be the watchword of all English speaking men throughout the world. Sincerely Yours,
ANDREW CARNEGIE.

A Los Angeles Woman's Influence.

SANTA FE, N. M., May 17.—Mrs. Hood, of Los Angeles, sister to Thomassen, the murderer, whose execution was set for Friday, the 20th, at Socorro, arrived in this city for the purpose of interceding with the Governor, and endeavor to secure for her brother a respite, in order that the doomed man's father, who is now en route from Arkansas to New Mexico, may have an opportunity of seeing his wayward son once more before the fatal day. Mrs. Hood made a most favorable impression upon the Governor, and after paying strict attention to her sympathetic appeals he granted Jasper Thomassen a respite for thirty days, so that the wishes of his relatives might be carried out.

GLADSTONE.

Anticipation of His Visit to America.

LINCOLN, Neb., May 17.—The following message was sent to-day by President Fitzgerald, of the Irish National League of America, to Gladstone:

Right Honorable Wm. E. Gladstone, House of Commons, London:—Learning from London cable despatches that there is a possibility of your visiting America during the coming autumn, I hasten, as President of the Irish National League of America, to tender you the respectful and cordial hospitality of that body, with the warm-hearted greeting of 15,000,000 Irish-Americans, and as an American citizen to assure you of such a welcome from the great freedom-loving people of this land as has never before been accorded to any visitor to our shores. (Signed)
JOHN FITZGERALD,
President Irish National League.

Ben Perley Poor Taken Ill.

WASHINGTON, May 17—Major Ben Perley Poore was taken seriously ill this afternoon in his committee room at the Capital. The attack was the result of overwork and heat. The Major was overcome suddenly by sickness of the stomach and quietly fainted away. Three physicians were soon in attendance and in a few moments the patient was restored to consciousness. When his strength was partially regained he was removed to his rooms at the Ebbitt House where he is resting quietly. It is hoped that a few days perfect rest will restore the Major to his usual good health.

Factories Close Down.

HAVERHILL, Mass., May 17.—Many association factories that are running to-day will not open to-morrow, swelling the number of lockouts to sixty-five shops and throwing out of employment 7000 persons. The masters are at work and will probably continue as their price list has not been cut down. The manufacturers hope to secure help sufficient to enable them to open "fire shops."

HE WILL BE MADE KNOWN.

A Hard-Working Democrat to be Made P. M. at Los Angeles.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—Before the end of the week information will be received here from Los Angeles that will determine the selection of a Postmaster for that city. Sidney Lacey is no longer in the race. The President was not entirely satisfied in his own mind as to the capabilities of any of the men whose claims were originally presented for the office, and he took steps a few days ago to learn the name of a hard-working Democrat who would satisfactorily fill the office.

SEVERAL CALIFORNIA APPOINTMENTS.

The President informed some of his callers yesterday that before the expiration of the week several appointments of direct interest to California would be made. He did not indicate what the appointments would be. It is believed the office of Consul-General to Paris will be filled by the appointment of a resident of the Golden State.

A LAND OFFICE APPOINTMENT.

The appointment of a receiver of the Land Office at Sacramento to succeed Mr. Gardner is daily expected. E. F. Smith, E. O. Hastings and E. E. Leake are the most prominent candidates, but it looks as though the place would go to a dark horse.

REPORT ON WINE.

Condition of the Industry in France—California Wine.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—United States Consul Roosevelt at Bordeaux, has been making an exhaustive study into the wine industry of France. The result of his observations are summed up as follows, in a recent report to the State Department; "There is abundant expert testimony that as good wines can be produced in California as in France. Last year, while in the United States, I daily used California claret and occasionally white wine from the same State, and I do not hesitate to say that I found them superior to the same grade of wines commonly consumed here. It must be admitted that France at present produces finer wines than have yet been made in the United States, but this fact is entirely due to years of experience, exceeding care and the skill employed, and not, as is claimed by the French, to superior advantages of soil and climate. The wine industry in the United States has, owing to its wide latitude, as is attested by pure and agreeable wines produced in Virginia as well as in California, a brilliant future. In view of this fact, there is no reasonable doubt that in time there will be brands of our native wines as famous and as much in demand as those of the celebrated wineries of France."

The Pacific Railway Investigation.

NEW YORK, May 17.—In the Pacific Railway investigation to-day, the well-known broker, John Pendir, was on the stand. Pendir went over the old story of the Credit Mobilier, and took occasion to vindicate Oakes Ames, saying that he was an honest man, and was killed by the infamous stories told concerning him. Pendir attempted to show the connection of Blaine with the Credit Mobilier. He said that when Tom Scott was elected President of the Union Pacific, Scott told witness that he had eighty-two bonds which belonged to Blaine which the Union Pacific would have to pay. Jay Gould was next placed on the stand, and gave at length the history of his connection with the Union Pacific.

Brooklyn Club Races.

NEW YORK, May 16.—At a meeting of the Brooklyn Jockey Club, to-day, the attendance was light, the weather fair, and the track fast. Three-quarter mile Brittania won, Ichi Ban second, Bankrup third. Time, 1:14½.

Two-year-olds, five furlongs, Specialty won, Slumber second, King Crab, third. Time, 1:03.

A later election is to be called to vote $50,000 for sewering the city.

Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.

PARIS, May 17.—The Chamber of Deputies 275 to 259 to-day rejected the proposals of the Government for increased taxation, and proceeded to discuss the order of the day. Goblet announced that the Cabinet would resign. As soon as the announcement was made the members of the Cabinet left the house. The afternoon resolution proposed by the Budget Committee, affirmed the necessity of adopting new plans for retrenchment. The resolution was adopted 312 to 148. The resignation of the Cabinet has been accepted.

SENATOR SHERMAN'S ADVICE.

In Favor of Reciprocity Treaty With Canada.

TORONTO, May 17.—The following abstract from a letter to Erastus Winan from Senator John Sherman, on the fall reciprocity treaty between Canada and the United States, appears in the Canadian papers to-morrow: No question is of greater importance in our foreign relations, now presented, than this, as to the particular measure proposed by Butterworth; or, indeed, as to the extent to which reciprocity should go; and all articles should be admitted free of duty in their respective countries. I do not feel justified in not expressing my opinion, for there must be discussion of the subject of negotiations between and legislation by the two countries, as it would be discreditable in the highest degree for two countries having so many interests in common, and natural ties of friendship and amity to have any irritation or controversy about their trade and interest with each other. Truly yours,
(Signed) JOHN SHERMAN.

Germany Sympathizes With France.

BERLIN, May 19.—It is reported that Bismarck instructed the German Ambassador to Paris to advise the French government in the interests of a peaceable conduct of the mobilization experiment, so it may not seem to be a menace to the German frontier. In the meantime all the diplomatic representations have been postponed on account of the French Ministerial crisis.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

A Review of the Day's Transactions.

NEW YORK, May 17.—The stock market was strong and higher, with slight concessions at times throughout the greater part of the day. The market was rather heavy at the opening, but became strong immediately under the lead of the Grangers. Business was moderately active, but after the advance of the first hour, while the tone of the market still remained firm, the changes in quotations were for insignificant fractions only until afternoon, when Jersey Central developed decided weakness and the general market showed a drooping tendency, accompanied by an increase in business. There was no further change in the temper of the market, but the close was steady. Government bonds were dull, but steady to firm.

DR. BAKER'S FUNERAL.

A Large Concourse of Sorrowing Friends Attend It.

At 11 o'clock yesterday the remains of the late Dr. J. S. Baker were removed to the Masonic Temple, corner of First and Spring streets, and laid in state. The building was thronged with friends anxious to take one last look at the still countenance of their departed friend. The casket was most elaborate and rested in the center of the Knights Templar Asylum. It was almost concealed from view by the floral tributes of loving friends. The Police force sent a bed of white roses, most exquisitely arranged and which covered the entire lower half of the casket. In the center of the bed of white in red geraniums were the letters R. E. S. T. The Grand Army of the Republic contributed a beautiful anchor, cross and pillow of beautiful flowers. The most exquisite tribute, however, was a grand Army badge of flowers sent by the ladies of Stanton Relief corps. This was a complete representation of the American flag surmounted by a star of violets. Beautiful floral pieces were also sent by Mrs. M. V. Biscailuz, Mrs. Lemon, Miss Campbell and others. The following inscription accompanied the floral offering of the police force.

"The man on whose grave his acquaintances are ready to cast floral tributes must, by reason of his virtue and great feeling for his fellow-men, have made himself singularly beloved and strangely popular during his career, and such was the case with the deceased, Dr. J. S. Baker. This tribute from the officers of the Los Angeles Police force but poorly expresses the feeling of sorrow that spread amongst them at the news of his sudden demise. His friendship for us, as for all men, did not simply float upon the surface, nor did the depths of it lack evidence. Proof we had of his deep personal interest and friendship for us, and never was his great heart known to refuse an opportunity to display that charity which is the greatest of the three great virtues. To the grave of eternal rest, to the haven of love unknown to mortals, with our blessing we consign him, with the fervent, earnest prayer that his spirit has acquired that "peace which passeth all understanding."

Shortly before 2 o'clock the widow and child of deceased, accompanied by Sir Knights W. A. Morgan and M. V. Biscailuz, arrived and were seated near the casket. By this time the spacious temple was filled to its utmost capacity by Knights Templar, members of Pentalpha Lodge, G. A. R., Knights of Pythias, the police force and a large number of friends, both ladies and gentlemen.

Rev. W. A. Knighten then delivered a touching sermon. He said that the people had gathered to pay a tribute of respect to the memory of Dr. J. S. Baker. Deceased was born in Kentucky in 1845. He graduated in medicine at Chicago, and moved to Iowa in 1868, where he engaged in the practice of his profession. In 1871 he was married to Miss Martha Prentiss, and there was one living child as the issue of the marriage. During the war he served as a member of the Third Iowa cavalry. His parents are still living at Caswell, Iowa. He came to Los Angeles in 1883, and his career here is well known to all. He was endeared to all who knew him, and had friends in all ranks. He made friends and held them, and increased them up to the hour of his death. As a physician it is only necessary to refer to his life in Los Angeles. He went about doing good, and his whole life was spent for others. He had imitated Christ, who was the type of the true physician. Christ healed lepers, helped the sick, cured the blind and cheered the homes of suffering humanity. He was the typical physician. Our departed friend also went about doing good. On his fair fame in the city can be found no mark of displeasure or disrespect. He spent years in scientific research, and then used the knowledge thus gained to alleviate the sufferings of mankind. He was unselfish and conscientious and devoted his life to others. His was a mission of mercy. During the recent threatened smallpox scourge in this city, you all know how nobly he acted his part. He went to the pest house and staid there until his friends feared for his health and induced him to leave. We may account for his early departure from the fact that he was tired in heart and tried in body. The strong and constant strain of the past two months proved too much for him and he went down full of years and honors. The reverend speaker delivered a glowing eulogy upon the life and services of the deceased, after which those present took a last look at the marble but lifelike features of the lamented dead.

The following pall bearers then conveyed the remains to the hearse in waiting: Drs. Cochrane and Davidson, Knights Templar; Messrs. C. S. Parcels and J. L. Slaughter, of Pentalpha Lodge and Capts. D. W. Field and A. W. Barrett of the G. A. R. The procession, headed by Doh's band, then moved to Rosedale cemetery, where the remains were interred.

The Great Monrovia Sale.

A large crowd of passengers yesterday attended the sale of the Monrovia lots advertised in the HERALD. Owing to the rush of business and the demand for cars and engines, the visitors were obliged to go and return on regular trains, a feature that interfered in a measure with the convenience of the passengers who expected to go later and return earlier than schedule time. However, the attendance was very large and the bidding lively and vigorous for premiums above schedule rates.

The lots went off like hot cakes seasoned with butter and honey, till the salesman became weary in well-doing; but this was not noticeable till he had sold 170 lots for $102,000. The premium on these lots above schedule price amounted to $10,000, which will be devoted to the erection of a public library in Monrovia. The sale was a great success, and showed the appreciation of the public for the rare lots of Monrovia.

In the evening a celebration of the first anniversary of the town was held, and was a most joyous and festive occasion.

Dairy Maids' Festival.

On the 25th of May the young ladies of the Congregational Church will give at the Pavilion for six nights, a Dairy Maids' Festival. This is for the benefit of the church edifice which was lately injured by fire. It will be a most pleasant and unique entertainment and all should attend. Full particulars will appear in to-morrow's issue. The ladies taking part are requested to meet for rehearsal this afternoon, at 3, at the Congregational Church. They will please bring their caps and stools with them.

O'BRIEN.

He Arrives at the City of Toronto.

HIS RECEPTION VERY WARM.

Disgraceful Actions of the Orangemen. How a Woman Stopped a Disturber.

Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.

TORONTO, May 17.—William O'Brien, editor of the United Ireland, arrived this morning amid a scene of enthusiasm and excitement unequaled since his entrance to Canada. Fully 3000 men crushed and struggled to catch a glimpse of him. A few attempts at hooting and hissing were made as he entered a carriage, but they were quickly drowned by the hearty cheering which went up as he stood up in the carriage and said: "Three cheers for our friends in England and the cause they are struggling for!" A calvacade of mounted police with drawn swords and a platoon of officers surrounded the carriage. The hotel was reached without a sign of hostility, except an occasional hoot or two from Orangemen.

SPOILING FOR A RUCTION.

MONTREAL, May 17.—Everybody is talking about what is likely to occur at Toronto when O'Brien gets there. An army of New York newspaper men are with O'Brien, increased by representatives of Chicago papers, and they are all thoroughly prepared for a riot, and will be disappointed if it should not occur.

At the hotel O'Brien was met by a committee who offered him addresses of welcome. In reply O'Brien made a short speech, thanking the committee for their support. He alluded to Lansdowne's alleged cruelty to tenants and made an attack on the London Times. His speech was received with cheers, mingled with hooting and hisses.

A DISGRACEFUL DEMONSTRATION.

TORONTO, May 17.—Never in the worst days of the Belfast disorder was a scene of more disgraceful rowdyism exhibited than that shown this afternoon in Queen's Park, where a crowd of Toronto Orangemen attempted to storm the platform, and, failing in that, to choke off all possibility of Mr. O'Brien being heard by keeping up a continual din, groaning, hissing and cries of "God Save the Queen!" and "Rule Brittania!" It was 4 o'clock when the crowd had about fully collected, and it then seemed fair to set the number present at 15,000, although people kept pouring in such floods from all quarters after the meeting had begun that there were times when 20,000 persons would not be an over estimate. Many of the banks in the city were closed, and the students in the university were let loose. Many of these, with crowds of desperate looking roughs, whose only glory in life seems to be row or riot, were organized in a compact band and excited little suspicion because they never said a word until their time came. The first demonstration came from a solitary man at the left-hand side of the platform, who stood upon the trunk of a tree and began groaning at the meeting and at those on the platform as though his life depended on the effort. Near him was a woman waving a green bough in her hand, and no sooner had she seen the obstreperous Orangeman than she ran the butt of the twig down his throat, which effectively choked off the disturber. Amid a roar of applause from the crowd and cries of "God save Ireland," a rush was made for the woman, but she was among friends and a surging wave of thousands drove back her would-be assassins. At this moment Mr. O'Brien arrived at the park in a carriage. 150 policemen in charge of Lieut.-Col. Grassell were scattered through the crowd or drawn up in files on the outskirts. Sergeant Seymour was in charge of a squad of mounted men, and when the disturbers attempted the breaking up of the meeting they most determinedly took their place and remained there from the beginning to the end of both Mr. O'Brien's and Mr. Killriege's speeches. The policemen quietly folded their arms and said not a word.

In all, the disturbers did not number more than sixty persons, and many of them were armed with sticks. Two sycamore trees in front of the platform were taken possession of by a band of young roughs, who hissed out into the speakers' faces during the greater part of the time, until a few men among the Nationalists caught hold of the trunks of the trees and shook the disturbers to the ground.

During the progress of O'Brien's speech many fights occurred. The Orangemen were always in the aggressive. The scenes enacted were some of the most disgraceful ever witnessed here.

Five Russians Beheaded.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 17.—The five men who took the most part in the late plot to assassinate the Czar were executed yesterday.

Raymond Excursionists.

The Pullman car "Monterey" went north yesterday, at 1:30 P. M., by the Southern Pacific Railroad, for Yosemite. The passengers, twenty in number, were a part of the late Raymond excursion, and from the Raymond Hotel, at South Pasadena.

Another carload of thirty will go north to-day, being the last of the late excursion. All these cars are new Pullmans, and perfectly beautiful. The company goes to Yosemite in single carloads, as more than that number, when united with other streams of travel, might embarrass the facilities for travel into the valley of wonders.

There are yet two more excursion trains in the Raymond series to arrive to complete the list.

Killed While Drunk.

Coroner Meredith yesterday held an inquest on the body of James Walker, who was killed by the opera train on Monday night at Santa Monica. It appeared that Walker had been working for the Street Railway Company, and had been paid off. In consequence of having an unusual amount of money in his pocket Walker became intoxicated and walked to the curve in the railroad track, where he laid down and went to sleep. The engineer or trainmen did not know they had run over Walker until yesterday morning, when he was found in a mangled condition along the railroad track. The jury found a verdict of accidental death. Deceased was single, 34 years of age and a native of Michigan.

The Chautauqua.

The annual Chautauqua will meet at the Chautauqua pavilion at Long Beach July 28th and continue its session to August 8th. Rev. S. J. Fleming, Superintendent of the Assembly, was in the city yesterday and is very enthusiastic concerning the session. The Assembly last year was a great success and indications point to a still greater success this year. Los Angeles is now the Mecca of all travelers coming to the Pacific shore, and when the "dog-star rages" all can be accommodated with seaside resorts and those who wish to complete their seashore joys with intellectual enjoyment can find in the Chautauqua a most delightful feast in nearly all branches of literature and science. The Assembly is entirely undenominational in its organization and operations. Lectures will be delivered by members of the press and distinguished travelers from Europe and also by American travelers, teachers and scientists. It is quite likely that the Chautauqua of Southern California at Long Beach will soon be the largest in the United States. The lectures on astronomy will be accompanied by the use of a large telescope, while the lectures on microscopy will be made interesting by the aid of a powerful microscope. The HERALD announces these enjoyments beforehand, so that visitors intending to spend a portion of the summer on the seashore will know at what time to visit this coast and have a rich treat that shall be grateful to all the senses.

Excursion to Pomona.

A rare trip of business and pleasure is in store for those who desire to take a trip to Pomona, to-morrow, (Thursday) the 19th. The train will leave the Union Depot a 8:30 A. M. on that day by the fine new cars of the Southern Pacific Company and return at 6 P. M. The fare for this most delightful ride of over sixty miles through beautiful fields of grain and fragrant meadows is only one dollar for the round trip. This low rate of fare has been obtained by Messrs. Back & Campbell, who will offer for sale on that day 240 lots in the heart of the beautiful town of Pomona and on the principal street of that flourishing place at low schedule prices.

These fine lots are the cream of the town, only two blocks from the center of the settlement. They are all in one body and a street railway is being constructed through them from the Southern Pacific depot, to be completed in thirty days.

The town of Pomona is one of the gems of California. It is beautifully situated at an elevation of 900 feet above sea level, at the base of the Sierra Madre, and commands a most charming and wide extended view of mountain and plain from San Gorgonio to the San Gabriel valley. It has fine schools, churches, excellent hotels, clean and well made streets lined with hedgerows, and all the residence lots ornamented with beautiful and perennial flowers. Its orchards are loaded with fruit at all seasons of the year, and its grapes and raisins are always among the best. Pomona is growing rapidly, and will soon be one of the leading towns of Southern California.

Society is first-class, cultured and progressive, and in every way the the town is attractive. The lots mentioned in this article are in a fine location, elevated and well watered, and appear to be most desirable to all who wish to purchase for a home or for a speculation.

With all these adventitious attractions it seems likely that the excursion will be very large, and that all these fine lots will be very rapidly sold to most fortunate purchasers.

HYDE PARK!

LOOK WHERE YOU WILL IN THE VICINITY OF THE CITY OF LOS ANGELES IN search either of lots or acre property for charming homes, and the best judgments will be convinced at a glance as to the difficulty of finding a location for a town so beautiful, such pure and bracing air, and smooth, rich lands as characterizes Hyde Park. This splendid townsite is located on the line of the California Central, of the Atchison Topeka and Santa Fe system, which is to connect Los Angeles with the new harbor at La Balloua, and is distant 7½ miles from the center of the city; a midway town between the city and the harbor. Trains are to be running through the tract by July next, when great business activity all along the line will be the order of the day. Liberal sized lots, 60x189 feet, fronting on 60-foot avenues, are offered and being taken rapidly at $100 each; $40 cash; balance $10 per month without interest. Such terms give the present purchasers a good opportunity to make money in the rising values that must follow the effects of the harbor and railroad developments. Particularly desirable are the 5 and 10 acre villa lots surrounding the town. Conveyances leave the office at 1:30 P. M. to show parties the beautiful property.

INSECTICIDE.

We beg to call your attention to an article we are manufacturing for the purpose of eradicating and destroying the Scale Bug, Harvest Flies, Tree Hoppers, Plant Lice, Etc.

It has been fully tested by the Agricultural Department of the State University, and pronounced a success, the endorsement of which we append. It is put up in convenient forms for use. The chemicals employed in same will not hurt the most tender bush, as has been fully demonstrated. It is put up in liquid form ready for use in barrels and 5-gallon cans, and in paste form in 2 and 5-lb. cans and barrels, which must be diluted before using; therefore, we recommend the liquid form as being the best for use.

[Copy of letter received from the University of California, College of Agriculture, Berkeley, dated Dec. 4th, 1886.]

J. N. Knowles, Esq., Manager Arctic Oil Works, San Francisco:

Dear Sir—We have lately tested the Insecticide preparation of Whale Oil Soap sent by you to us, and have found it to be very effectual against the Scale infesting Orange and Bay Trees; also against the Thrips. From our previous experience with a similar composition, I think it will be found fully effectual against any small Insect Pests not specially protected like some of the armored Scales, and against which any Wash short of strong lye cannot be used. Respectfully,
E. W. HILGARD,
Professor State University.

We ask you to give this preparation a thorough test, feeling confident that it will do all we claim for it. It will cost but a small amount to save your fruit trees and flower plants from the deadly insect. Give it a trial and be convinced. Yours truly,

WANTED HOMES.

Who Will Adopt Two Infant Children?

Wanted immediately! homes for two infant children, girls, aged respectively eleven and twenty days. In the city papers of Saturday was published a pathetic letter, ostensibly written by the little babe whom it introduced and who was left at the door of a gentleman's home in Florence. The little waif pleaded for protection and adoption, but circumstances made it impossible for him to receive it and care for it. At the County Hospital, where another little child had been ushered into life, just as its mother closed her eyes forever from its helplessness. No room could be found for either and no other door opened to the small wanderers. They are carried to the Orphan's Home, but its already crowded condition, the overtaxed nurse and her helpers and the want of funds, forbade the management giving more than the temporary shelter demanded by common humanity. No provision is made for State aid for children under one year of age, and it has been in face of positive rules that the management have received these children for whom no other shelter could be found. Provision, necessarily limited in amount and time, has been granted by the Board of Supervisors, and the appeal is now made to those into whose hearts and homes has never come the child-life, or to those from whom have gone out the light and joy of the family circle, to receive these little ones into the vacant places and to bestow upon them the waiting love and needed care.

Enquire of Mrs. D. G. Stephens, corner of Sixth and Olive streets, or Miss R. McManio, 95 Date street.

THE RACES.

Full List of Starters For the First Day.

To-day at Agricultural Park commences the spring meeting of the Los Angeles Turf Club. The races will be excellent and the arrangements are such that every one who attends will have a delightful time. Following are the starters for the races:

For the 2.35 trot the first event on the programme.

No. 1—An aged br. g., Apprentice Boy, by the Moor, being half brother to Rose's Sultan, Del Sur and such good ones; his dam by Belmont; his record is 2:39 made years ago; lately his work shows close to 2:30, and with Reynolds in the sulky he will be persuaded to the front. In adversity his driver brought Dora in a winner and expects to do the same to-day.

No. 2—A b. g. 5, Dick Thurston, by Silver Heels; dam a Morgan Messenger; Wood's training and Walter's driving shows much below 40, and if not first is sure not to be last in the race.

No. 3—Durfee's g. g. What Ho 5, by Richmond, dam by Overland, making him brother to Romero, Lou Rose and that class; he was beaten last year on a half mile track in slow time, this year has shown a mile in 2:32; his forte is rather staying qualities and can be depended on for an all day 40 gate. Everything favorable, he is dangerous. Knowing ones size up the "if."

No. 4—Sproul's b. g. Capt. Jack, aged, no pedigree; really he is by the celebrated General Knox (392) out of a Spalding Abdallah mare. He has usually been defeated, and in slow time, but with the skillful handling of Richard Barnes, will make the balance think they have a race to run.

SECOND RACE—Three quarter mile dash for two-year-olds. The Nadeau House stakes, the creation of Mine Host Dunham. The first event of the kind ever consummated in Los Angeles. It closed in December, 1885, with eight entries, Hutchinson, Machialo, Rowland and Pico scratched, leaving:

No. 1—Pallet's b. c. Origin, by Hardwood, dam Mollie Adams, by Ben Wade, owned by winners and in fine condition. He will make it hot from start to finish.

No. 2—Fred McLean's ch. c. Typesetter, by Hock-hocking, dam by Ben Wade, same breeding as Hutchinson's thoroughbreds, being a large promising colt. Our "tip" is look for him a winner. Bridges handles him.

No. 3—Robt. E. Stewart's ch. f. Bonnie Blue, by Jim Polk, dam a fast mare. A winner in San Diego. He carries 107, the light weight, with the talent up as a rider. She will make a gallant maiden race. Watch her.

No. 4—Samuel's b c, Ed McGinnis, unfortunate in failing to get a place at the Bay; his sire, Grinstead the sire of Volante, dam Jennie G. Just think. Can he be beaten? We don't bet, but will wager a pot of paste he gets there. It is worth a trip to the Park to see these events.

Stiffness in the limbs is sure to vanish by the use of St. Jacobs Oil, the conqueror of pain.

The Just Functions of a Newspaper.

Certain occurrences in Los Angeles, of late, have caused many persons who ordinarily care nothing for a newspaper, except as a vehicle for conveying the news of the world, to ask themselves what the functions of a daily journal are—what should be its privileges and what its restrictions? Originally the newspaper was a mere news-letter sent from London to keep the country gentry au courant with the events transpiring at the Court. It existed in perfection in the time of Steel, Addison, and the brilliant wits of Charles the Second's court were not above contributing to this sort of circular letter of advice. At that time it was in truth a mere brief abstract and chronicle of the times. Macaulay, in his history of England, gives a graphic and highly interesting account of the origin and development of this precursor of the newspaper of the present day. In substantially this form it continued in England and the United States to the opening of the present century and even till a later period. In England the old gossiping form of these letters shortly took the shape of the "Annual Register," which had the honor of enjoying the editorial services of the illustrious Edmund Burke. To this was added an official court journal. A great and startling innovation in embryo journalism was accomplished when the London Times first began to report the parliamentary debates. This was done in a very fragmentary manner, and the fractional portions thus reported were obtained with great difficulty, against the decided hostility of both houses of Parliament and often at imminent peril of imprisonment of both reporters and publishers.

In the United States newspapering cannot be said to have taken its existing shape until somewhere about the opening of the forties, about which time James Gordon Bennett started his New York Herald. The excesses into which that man of eccentric genius, unscrupulous conscience and indomitable energy, ran his paper are known to many Americans of the present day. He abused every legitimate conception of a daily newspaper, and shamelessly prostituted its columns to purposes of gain, but he published the news. It is a significant circumstance as to all journals which have started out in their career in a riotous fashion that the force of public opinion and the decency begotten of prosperity sometimes slowly but always surely force them into a more conservative and respectable channel. This has been notably the case with the New York Herald. The elder Bennett were he alive to-day would not think of getting himself horse whipped and then of parading his castigation in his own columns to increase the sale of his paper. Such a paper would not sell now, and its proprietor would be regarded as a social Pariah. Dickens, in his Martin Chuzzlewit, gives in the "Rowdy Journal," a correct although a somewhat highly colored picture of the degradation of the journalism of that day.

It may be useful at times to indulge in abstract speculations as to what a daily journal ought to be. It ought above all things to give the news, but its conductors should bear in mind the fact that prurient details of scandal and tittle-tattle are not news, and that the police courts are not the Castalian founts from which inspiration should be sought. After having supplied its readers with the news of the day, both at home and abroad, pointed editorial comments on men and events are an attractive feature of any daily newspaper, although they ought not to be stretched to the limits of a magazine article. A journal aiming at great usefulness and influence ought always to be the champion of the masses against the classes, the fearless assailer of the wrong and defender of the right. While countenancing no spurious enterprises it ought to aim at advancing the interests and promoting the development of the section in which it is published. In the discussion of public measures and men it should be fair, as much as possible dispassionate and vigorous, but vigorous within a line which stops short of vicious personalities. It should alike eschew slang and namby-pamby poetry. Such a journal, if conducted with only a moderate degree of ability, in the hands of trained newspaper men, is sure to become prosperous and respected, and to make hosts of friends although, in the discharge of its mission—really an exalted one if fully carried out—the making of many enemies is equally unavoidable.

It is very easy to say what the conductors of a newspaper ought not to be. If they are themselves very frail and very vulnerable, they ought not to set themselves up as moral censors, and show a vindictive delight in exposing the weakness or follies of their fellows. A man's whole past life should not be ransacked to discover some sore spot whose exposure to the public gaze is apt to make him miserable for life. If some foolish young girl or misguided boy, through accident or the carelessness incident to their age, should be brought up in the courts, their shame ought not to be blazoned forth to the world, to the pain and mortification of their friends. The conductors of a newspaper ought not to be eternally indulging in personalities, and bandying drivel with their contemporaries, for the public takes a limited interest in all this. Especially should they never try to terrorize a whole community, for it is sure to laugh at their puny efforts, and they are as certain to be tripped up, and to fall from their supposed high estate, as the stars are to run in their appointed courses. Finally, with a concluding remark that it is well for the conductors of journals that think right smart of themselves to avoid even an appearance of blackmail, we end our little lecture. We will add, in the language of the immortal Bunsby, that the point of our reflection "lies in the application on 'em," and this Los Angeles readers will have no difficulty in making.

THE existing corner in wheat and barley is one of the most peculiar trade episodes ever chronicled. The anomaly of wheat actually ruling higher in San Francisco and Chicago than at Liverpool has never occurred before. The controllers of the pool seem to be no whit intimidated by the fact that they are loaded up with prodigious quantities of the staple. They point to the asserted short crops in the Eastern States and in the Baltic provinces of Russia, and to the unquestioned fact that we have barely half a crop of the cereals in California this year, as buttresses of their position. Los Angeles county will scarcely average half a crop, and the outlook is better here than in any portion of the State we have traversed. The last great wheat corner was presided over by Jim Keene, and very disastrously to that gentleman. Mr. James C. Flood, the Bonanza King, is said to be the leading inspiration of the present corner. If so, it has a good, solid backing of $25,000,000 in the bank account and assets of that personage alone, and the pressure of the "bear" assaults can be withstood for a much longer time than was possible to the limited purse of Keene.

LOS ANGELES has one possession which her real estate owners, at least, would willingly part withal—viz: County Assessor Charles C. Mason. This eccentric gentleman is said to insist upon raising the assessment roll of this county to $140,000,000, or to a figure more than one-half that of San Francisco, which may be assumed as $230,000,000. The effect of this novel device will be to make Los Angeles county pay more than $750,000 a year into the State Treasury than she would on a property valuation made the way the assessors of San Francisco and all the other central and northern counties invariably make theirs. If the valuations of the counties of San Diego and San Bernardino are regulated on the same scale, the three extreme southern counties will pay into the State Treasury more money than all the rest of the State outside of San Francisco put together. Mr. Mason is understood to justify his action on the letter of the law. Some of our taxpayers, however, will think that he ought to leave to the State Board of Equalization the correction of any inaccuracy of undervaluation, and stand by his section.

An advertisement of Mr. Dan McFarland and other gentlemen who purchased the Simi Rancho. To-day at 10 o'clock the subscription books will be opened for parties desiring to take the stock. Judging from the number of persons who are making inquiry about this property, with the view of investing, a big rush may be expected to-day at Mr. McFarland's office.

It is a noteworthy fact that the people in Ventura county, where the property is best known and partly situated, are the most eager to have the stock. Frank P. Barnes, of Ventura, who prepared the abstract, says the people over there "are just crying to get in at $7.50 per acre." The price fixed is only $6.50 however.

THE PAVILION.

Grand Representation of Lohengrin—Tremendous Audience.

The Pavilion was crowded last night with an audience that even exceeded in numbers the large attendance of the opening evening. The building contained fully three thousand persons, and the average price of the tickets was about $2.70 apiece. The house must thus have held about $8000.

Lohengrin, which held the boards, admitted of a far better display of the prodigious strength of the National Opera Company than Lakme. It is a work characterized by exigent demands on the orchestra, and it requires an army of artists and walking ladies and gentlemen, at least what was the medieval substitute for those useful modern institutions, to carry out its plan. It demands, besides, a wealth of stage properties, and a skill on the part of the stage carpenters and scenic artists, beyond the comprehension of the ordinary stage manager, and far beyond the resources of the ordinary theater. It would be highly unjust not to accord great praise to the way the management have overcome difficulties that appeared to be simply insurmountable when it is borne in mind that the Pavilion was first opened for dramatic representation only night before last. Some of the "sets" were simply masterpieces under the circumstances and reflected the highest credit on the company. Notably was this the case in the bridal procession. It required a whole army to achieve the highly scenic effects which characterized this phase of the opera.

The plot of "Lohengrin" is too familiar to most cultivated people to call for repetition. All who have given any attention to the mystic folklore of Germany, of which the Niebelungen legends are full, do not need to have the story of the Holy Grail repeated. In the caste were many of the best voices of the combination, very much overshadowing those of "Lakme," with the exception of Pauline L'Allemand and perhaps Stoddard. Generally Kings are very unimportant people, both in operas and plays, but King Henry L—the "Fowler" King of Germany—is a decided exception to this rule in Wagner's sublime composition. It was sung by Myron W. Whitney, who disclosed a basso voice of the first rank. It was sonorous and majestic and its effect was aided by a fine person and very considerable histrionic skill. William Candidus was the "Lohengrin," and is the owner of a sweet, but not especially powerful tenor. He acquitted himself of his role in a highly satisfactory manner. The "Telramund" of William Ludwig was an artistic conception, and he proved himself to be the possessor of a very agreeable baritone voice.

Mesdemoiselles Bertha Pierson and Cornelia Van Zanten appeared before a Los Angeles audience for the first time last night. It is just possible that the role of "Elsa" may slightly transcend the former lady's powers. She has a sweet soprano, of considerable range, and looked the character to perfection. Miss Van Zanten is a charming contralto and a decidedly clever actress. Much of the triumph of the evening was due to her very skillful acting and exquisite vocalization. Some of the San Francisco journals, in our judgment, failed to accord to this lady and genuine artiste the full meed of recognition to which she is entitled. Her "Ortrud" was a consummately fine rendition, and her voice, while it may lack in sympathetic vibration, has a fine adaptability to the declamatory and sibyl-like style of music in which Wagner conceived the role.

Take it for all in all, the performance last night fully attained the role of grand opera. The chorals and orchestration were artistic and satisfactory in the highest degree. Wagner invariably places a great deal of labor upon the orchestra, and their labors in Lakme were a mere bagatelle compared to those of which they acquitted themselves so capitally last night. At times the swell of a wild, barbaric theme was tremendous, and not a single instrument was permitted to lag. The chorals were also exceptionally good, and together the peculiar Wagnerian strains really reached the sublime. In Lohengrin, great and difficult as are the tasks imposed upon the principal singers, no half dozen artists ever engross the whole movement of the piece. The verdict of our musical dilettanti last night was one of unmingled pleasure.

TO-NIGHT'S PERFORMANCE.

At the Pavilion to-night a performance of Gounod's Faust will be given, which promises to be a notable feature of the American opera season. Wherever the National Opera Company has appeared its representation of Gounod's immortal opera has been conceded to be by far the grandest and most elaborate production of Faust ever given in this country. It is mounted richby, but with artistic taste, and the scenery was painted by no less than eight artists. The opera will be given in its entirety, the original score from the Grand Opera at Paris being used. Emma Juch, who will make her first appearance here as "Margnerite," is said to be an ideal exponent of the character, both musically and dramatically. Jessie Bartlett-Davis, Mathilde Phillips, Messrs. Bassett, Ludwig and Stoddard complete a strong cast. The ballet will be seen in the Kermess of the first act and in the grand Bacchanal ballet of the fourth act, with Mlle de Gillert and Mlle. Carozzi as principal dancers.

To-morrow afternoon Nicolai's bright opera The Merry Wives of Windsor, should draw a crowded house. This will be the last opportunity of hearing Mlle. Pauline L'Allemand, who made such a brilliant success as "Lakme" on Monday night, when L'Allemand will appear as "Mistress Ford," with Jessie Bartlett-Davis as "Mistress Page," and William Hamilton as "Falstaff." In the third act the grand Elfin ballet will be danced.

DAILY HERALD.

CITY SEWERAGE.

Col. Waring's Report on the System.

SURVEYOR EATON'S PLANS

Approved With But one Exception and that unimportant.

As will be seen by the following report of Col. E. Waring, he approved of the plans for the sewerage of this city as devised by the City Surveyor, Fred Eaton, with the exception of the placing of manholes in the streets. Surveyor Eaton's plans contemplate the placement of manholes at various intervals in all the sewers, no matter of what size, while Col. Waring thinks this is unnecessary, and says that the facility for the inspection of the work by looking from one manhole to another is of fanciful rather than of real value. Surveyor Eaton differs from this position and agrees with other authorities in sewerage equally as well versed in the matter as Col. Waring. Mr. Eaton thinks that manholes are a necessity, because with their use a single glance will disclose whether or not there is an obstruction in process of formation while with Col. Waring's plan of inspecting by the use of rods or wires will not reveal the obstruction until the pipes are choked up entirely. By means of manholes the inspection can be made in much less time than with wires. Time is a consideration when men are employed by the day and the construction of manholes will save more than their cost in a very short time. This is the only matter in which Col. Waring differs from Surveyor Eaton. The report which will be presented to the Council is as follows:

COL. WARING'S REPORT.

To the Honorable, the City Council of Los Angeles, Cal.:

I am in receipt of a copy of a report of the City Surveyor on the proposed sewerage of Los Angeles, dated May 3, 1887, and I submit herewith my views concerning the same subject.

I beg to say as the outset that your Surveyor gave me every possible opportunity to investigate the general features of the situation and, so far as data already secured made possible, to examine its details. His long familiarity with the ground, and his careful and intelligent consideration of the conditions controlling the work were of great value to me, and must be of even greater value in perfecting the details of the system.

The problem presented to you is unusually difficult, and its difficulties are greatly increased by the uncertainty as to the direction in which the growth of population is to extend. Indeed it would seem impossible now to determine where to provide for dense and where for sparse population; the only safety would seem to lie in arranging for the sewerage of each section of the city under the assumption that it may at some future time be fully occupied. This, however, will not add very materially to the cost of the work, as, no matter where the greatest population may be located, the whole expense of outlet works would, in any case, be the same.

The City Surveyor formulates his advice under the following headings:

1. The disposal of sewage on lands near the ocean.
2. With a possible outfall at the ocean.
3. All sewage to be collected at the southwest corner of the city.
4. A maximum flow at the rate of one hundred and fifty gallons per head per day.
5. Provisions for a population of two hundred thousand.

(1.) There is no question in the mind of any engineer familiar with the disposal of sewage by irrigation as to the propriety and advantage of that process.

I have myself examined several of the larger sewage irrigation farms of England, the immense works at Berlin and the very large and carefully conducted experimental works at Paris. I am familiar with other works of this character, by description and study. I have myself carried out irrigation disposal works under very difficult conditions in several instances in this country, and even in the Eastern and Northern States, where land is more difficult to obtain, where the winters are severe and where at all seasons disposal is subject to interference by heavy storms, there can be no question as to the propriety of this means of purifying the effluent of city sewers. In a country like this, where irrigation is a necessary adjunct of profitable cultivation, where land owners stand ready to receive sewage in great volume and where there is so rarely an interference from rain and never from frost, it will surely be found that this means of disposal under all ordinary conditions, is the only one worthy of your attention.

After a careful consideration of the City Surveyor's suggestions and conclusions on the subject, although at first inclined to favor delivery to lands near the city, I have reached the opinion that the area selected by him is, on the whole, that which it is most advisable to use. The intervening alkali flat would be unsuitable, partly because of its being subject to overflow; the land between that and the city limits, as I am informed, underlaid by water-bearing gravel, which is likely to become an important source of water supply; and though, undoubtedly, sewage might be delivered upon it without danger to health, the sentimental objection to a combination of even purified sewage with its water is too strong to be disregarded.

The large body of land within reach of the proposed irrigation ditch, beyond the first tunnel, is subject to none of these difficulties; it can be reached without undue cost, and its use will, unquestionably, afford a final solution of your disposal problem for all time. It has the further advantage that if this opinion should prove not to be well founded, and if this land should at any time prove inadequate, the course followed in reaching it is the one best suited for a direct discharge to the ocean. It is not unlikely that a more careful and extensive survey of this proposed outlet will develop a better and more economical line. The cost of running such experimental lines would be trifling as compared with the economy resulting from the finding of a better one; this, however, is a matter of detail with which your surveyor is fully competent to deal.

(2.) Should the outlet to the ocean be found necessary at a future time, it will certainly not be required except during the rainy season when any possible disadvantage resulting from the discharge of sewage on shore during the summer season would not exist.

(3.) The southwest corner of the city seems, obviously, the best point of discharge on the ground of economy as well as of convenience. The sewerage of the limited area in the southwestern portion of the city can be sent to that outlet by pumping, as suggested, for a moderate cost, or it may be found unobjectionable to deliver it to a special irrigation tract of its own. This is a question of detail which does not affect the general scheme.

I have examined the general conditions of the present disposal by irrigation over lands near the city. As now managed this process is objectionable. It is possible that these objections might be overcome, and there is no doubt that after the proper sewerage of the city, by a strictly cleanly process, the odor of the sewage itself would not be noticeable. The present plan of conveyance by open earth ditches would, however, always result in considerable annoyance. To overcome this annoyance would require a somewhat costly finishing of all ditches in proximity to highways, and a complete control by the city authorities of the processes of distribution. These difficulties would not be met with in the proposed more distant tract.

(4.) The use by the general public of so large a volume as one hundred gallons per head per day implies an unlimited water supply, and very lavish and careless habits on the part of the people.

Mr. Eaton thinks that this use is to be provided for, and his judgment in the matter is, of course, much better than mine.

It is usual to provide facilities for the transportation of 50 per cent. more sewage than the average of the daily flow, because the largest use of water is during certain morning hours, and there is very much less during the night. It is, however, questionable whether it is necessary to provide for so large an increase in your case. The legitimate use of water for such household purposes as increase the morning flow does not probably amount, even in your case, to more than from thirty to forty gallons per day, and it is this portion of the flow that is subject to increase. The flow that is due to carelessness and to wanton waste is probably nearly as great during the night as in the daytime.

However, while it would probably be safe to provide for an increase flow of 25 per cent., the additional cost of a provision for 50 per cent. would be comparatively trifling, and in such cases it is wise to take the benefit of the doubt, unless there is some controlling reason other than the economy secured for restricting the size of the sewers. The chief argument in this direction would relate to the ability of the smaller flow to maintain a cleanly condition in sewers proportioned for the larger flow, and it will be found on an investigation of the effect of less than one hundred gallons per day in flowing through sewers provided for one hundred and fifty gallons per day that no deposits are to be feared with the smaller amount.

I, therefore, indorse the recommendation that provision be made for the large volume of one hundred and fifty gallons per person, if the supply is to remain abundant.

(5.) The question of the extent of the future population of your city is one with which I am not qualified to deal. It seems to me that all that it is strictly necessary to regard, aside from the question of cost, is the regulation of the size of the sewers to the ability of the flow to keep them clean.

As a very large proportion of your sewers will be laid with a steep inclination and can be kept in good condition by moderate flushing, and as even the flatter areas of the city have almost invariably a good fall, I feel confident that a proper regulation of sizes and flushing facilities will maintain a perfectly good condition even though the population may not exceed one hundred thousand. It seems, therefore, perfectly safe to leave the discussion of the question of the extent of population to yourselves. Sewers constructed for two hundred thousand people would not be overcrowded, except as to the main outlet, by a population of three hundred thousand, so that a determination in favor of that amount would seem to answer all possible conditions.

With the imperfect data now in possession of your surveying department, it would be, of course, impossible to determine the details of the different parts of the system. I would suggest, however, for your consideration, the following points:

(1.) The division of the city according to topographical indications into numerous small districts; the combination of these districts into larger sub-main districts, and the final concentration of these sub-main districts at a general point of out-fall at the southwestern corner of the city as suggested.

(2.) Ample experience has shown that properly laid and properly regulated six-inch pipes are ample for the discharge of the sewage of a very considerable district; also, that such pipes, when properly laid, are not subject to obstruction to a degree that need be considered,—for example, in Keene, New Hampshire, where there are more than ten miles of six-inch pipes in regular use, there has not been a single obstruction due to the introduction of foreign substances since the original construction in 1882. With your more rapid inclination, liability to obstruction would be even less. I would therefore suggest the use of these pipes in all cases where their use by a dense population in the districts that they serve would not fill them at any hour of the day more than half full. Below such points, the sizes should be increased to eight inches, ten inches, and larger, as the increasing flow may require.

(3.) I have a strong opinion, based on ample experience and observation, that it is better not to use man-holes on sewers smaller than ten inches in diameter. I believe that man-holes are much more likely to be a means of obstruction by the introduction through them of dirt, rubbish articles that it may be desired to get rid of, than to be useful in the removal of such obstructions.

There is now available for the inspection, the flushing and the cleansing of these small sewers a very simple devise by which access is gained from the surface, through inclined branch inspection pipes, looking both up and down the line. If these are placed at intervals of three hundred feet it will be easy to reach any point of the sewer with heavy cleaning wires or flexible rods.

Man-holes should be used on sewers ten inches in diameter and larger; but even these, up to a size of at least fifteen inches, should give access only to a covered opening in the pipe, so that matters falling or thrown in from the surface cannot enter the sewer, and so that the regularity of the flow may not be impeded by the enlargement at the man-hole as usually made.

I think that changes of direction should be made on curves of large radius, not as has often been done by sharp curves within the manhole itself. The facility for the inspection of the work by looking from one manhole to another is of fanciful rather than real value. If the sewer can be seen through in this manner, it needs no attention. If it needs attention because of an obstruction, it cannot be seen through. Its condition can always be determined by the use of cleaning rods or wires.

4. Throughout a very large part of the whole system of sewerage the natural flow will be sufficient to remove deposits, but such deposits are quite sure to be found near the upper ends of the lines, and here the natural flow will not suffice to sweep these away before they shall have had time to putrefy and produce a foul atmosphere. It has been my custom, and has been found most useful, to furnish the upper end of every branch of the system with a small automatic flush tank, which may be fed from the water supply or by the sewage coming from a few adjacent houses. This suffices for maintaining a cleanly condition throughout the whole system.

(5.) The sewers should be ventilated through house drains and soil pipes. The drains should enter the sewer above the flow line. There should be no traps in their course nor in that of the soil pipes, which should end open-mouthed above the roofs. Experience has shown that this system of ventilation is unobjectionable and entirely effective.

(6.) There may be a few instances in the more level parts of the city where special large flushing tanks fed by sewerage or better, where convenient, from the irrigation ditches, would de advantageous. This is a detail which can be determined only in the perfecting of the final plan.

The main outlet sewer will, at least for some years, require heavy flushing. Fortunately this can easily be arranged by a large flush tank built on the surface at or near the beginning of the out-fall drain, and supplied from the irrigation ditch near by.

(7.) In my opinion it would be better in all cases to use circular sewers rather than egg-shaped ones. The latter are useful chiefly where there is a great variation in the volume of flow, due to the excess of rainwater. Where this is excluded, as it would be in your case, the variation can never be so great that ample additional space will not be afforded by sewers of circular section. Such sewers are cheaper in construction and are in all respects advisable in your city.

(8.) Much of the difficulty of this whole case relates to the peculiar local conditions, the outlying portions of the city being of such contorted grades that it will be impossible to locate the sewers to the best advantage without much careful study in every case in the completion of the plan for for sewerage. This part of the work will require close consideration at the hands of your City Surveyor. There is no case where it will not be easy to secure a sufficient grade and a proper outfall for every section, but there are doubtless many cases where an attentive study of the relations of different parts of each district to each other and to the whole scheme will not be necessary for the most satisfactory and most economical disposition.

(9.) The whole plan being completed and made in all respects satisfactory, every effort should be made to secure a close adherence to it in the future. The whole system cannot be completed for many years, but it would be a misfortune if future administrations should change the plan, even in detail, unless after the fullest and most careful consideration, and with no other motive than the public good in each instance.

Perhaps it will be possible, in submitting the vote on the bonds for the work, to limit every expenditure to the exact carrying out of the plan as submitted.

Respectfully submitted,
GEO. E. WARING, JR.

San Francisco, May 14, 1887.

Seemingly Eradicated

With repeated and powerful doses of quinine, chills and fever, in some one of its various forms, springs into active existence again, often without the slightest apparent provocation. To extinguish the smoldering embers of this obstinate and recondite malady, no less than to subdue it when it rages fiercely in the system, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is all sufficient. When every resource of the pharmacopœia has been exhausted against it in vain, the Bitters conquer it—will remove every lingering vestige of it. Nay, more, the Bitters will protect those brought within the influence of the atmospheric poison that begets malarial disease, from its attacks. Disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, are among the complaints to be apprehended from the use of miasma tainted water. These are both cured and prevented by the Bitters. Rheumatism, constipation and renal complaints, yield to its action.

They Never Fail.

California's scenery cannot be surpassed in the world, with her beautiful evergreen valleys and her continuous snow-capped mountains. Cure for Piles.

PILES are frequently preceded by a sense of weight in the back, loins and lower part of the abdomen, causing the patient to suppose he has some affection of the kidneys or neighboring organs. At times, symptoms of indigestion are present, flatulency, uneasiness of the stomach, etc. A moisture like perspiration, producing a very disagreeable itching, after getting warm, is a common attendant. Blind, bleeding and itching piles yield at once to the application of Dr. Bosanko's Pile Remedy, which acts directly upon the parts affected, absorbing the tumors, allaying the intense itching, and effecting a permanent cure. Price 50 cents. Address the Bosanko Medicine Co., Piqua, O. Sold by E. F. Heinzeman.

After suffering for more than three years with disease of the throat and lungs, I got so low last spring I was entirely unable to do anything, and my cough was so bad I scarcely slept any at night. My Druggist, Mr. H. F. Goodnight, sent me a trial bottle of DR BOSANKO'S COUGH AND LUNG SYRUP. I found relief, and after using six $1.00 bottles, I was entirely cured. J. M. WELDEN. For Santa Abie is on account of its pleasant taste, and old folks who have used it will never be without this King of Cough Cures, for it will relieve more cases of Asthma, Croup, Cold, Bronchitis, Pneumonia, Whooping Cough and all throat and Lung troubles, than any medicine in this world. Unnecessary Misery

Probably as much misery comes from habitual constipation as from any derangement of the functions of the body, and it is difficult to cure, for the reason that no one likes to take the medicines usually prescribed. Hamburg Figs were prepared to obviate this difficulty, and they will be found pleasant to the taste of women and children; 25 cents; at all druggists. J. J. Mack & Co. proprietors, San Francisco.

Now Has Faith.

I had been troubled all winter with cold and pain in the chest and got no relief from remedies recommended by druggists and physicians. At the same time I was advertising Dr. Bosanko's cough and lung syrup. I had little faith, but thought to try it as a last resort, now I believe even more than they tell me of its curative qualities.—From the News, Elizabethtown, Ky. Sample bottle 5 cents at C. F. Heinzeman's.

BELLE OF NELSON DISTILLERY COMPANY.

OFFICE—NEW HOPE, NELSON CO., KY. MAIN OFFICE—123 and 125 EAST MAIN ST.

LOUISVILLE, KY., JANUARY 1, 1886.—The letter below is published for the information of Druggists who sell alcoholic liquors. DR. D. W. YANDELL, eminent as a Surgeon and Physician, not only in the United States, but in other countries, recently addressed the letter, of which the following is an autograph copy, to a medical friend in Philadelphia. The letter tells its own story:

LOUISVILLE, KY., December 1, 1885.

MY DEAR DOCTOR—In answer to your inquiry as to the comparative value of brandy and whisky in therapeutics, I have briefly this to say: After a long and very careful comparison, at the bedside, of the effects of the best Cognac Brandy and the best Kentucky Whisky, I am satisfied that the action of the latter is as speedy, pleasant and enduring as that of the former. There are, as you already know, many fine whiskies manufactured in this State under different brands. Among them I may name the BELLE OF NELSON as being thoroughly well made, honest, straight and mellow, and for these reasons being specially fitted as a remedy where alcohol is indicated.
Always faithfully yours, D. W. YANDELL.

For the information of the trade generally we append copy of a letter from Captain Theodore C. Tracie, who was for ten years connected with the United States Internal Revenue service, and was thoroughly familiar with the methods of distillation pursued in Kentucky and elsewhere. In his capacity of United States Internal Revenue Agent, in charge of the Division of Kentucky and Tennessee, he made frequent examinations of distilleries, and the statement made by him is entitled to high consideration:

LOUISVILLE, KY., January 1, 1886—Mr. Robert F. Tilford, President Belle of Nelson Distillery Company—Dear Sir: For several years it was my duty as Internal Revenue Agent to examine the Distilleries in Kentucky and other States. As I reported, a few years ago, after making careful examination of the methods pursued in the distillation of BELLE OF NELSON WHISKY, I found the article to be literally a pure hand-made Sour Mash Whisky—every stage of the process being similar to the old-time method—no large tubs, patent rakes, yeast or cold slop being used, fermentation being produced by natural and unaided causes. The proportion of rye and malt to corn used in the formula was about 33 per cent., which made the product very expensive, but it produced a whisky which is all you represent it in purity, smoothness and incomparable flavor, having no superior in the State. I can heartily indorse the high encomiums which have been passed upon this well known whisky for many years. Yours truly,
THEODORE C. TRACIE,
Late United States Internal Revenue Agent.

WORTHY Of Confidence.

AYER'S Sarsaparilla is a medicine that, during nearly 40 years, in all parts of the world, has proved its efficacy as the best blood alterative known to medical science.

SARSAPARILLA (extracted from the root of the genuine Honduras Sarsaparilla) is its base, and its powers are enhanced by the extracts of Yellow Dock and Stillingia, the Iodides of Potassium and Iron, and other potent ingredients.

IS your blood vitiated by derangements of the digestive and assimilatory functions? Is it tainted by Scrofula? or does it contain the poison of Mercury or Contagious Disease?

THE leading physicians of the United States, who know the composition of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, say that nothing else so good for the purification of the blood is within the range of pharmacy.

ONLY by the use of this remedy is it possible for a person who has corrupted blood to attain sound health and prevent transmission of the destructive taint to posterity.

THOROUGHLY effective renovation of the system must include not only the removal of corruption from the blood, but its enrichment and the strengthening of the vital organs.

RELIABLE witnesses, all over the world, testify that this work is better accomplished by AYER'S SARSAPARILLA than by any other remedy.

BLOOD that is corrupted through disease is made pure, and blood weakened through diminution of the red corpuscles is made strong, by AYER'S SARSAPARILLA.

PURIFYING the blood and building up the system require time in serious cases, but benefit will be derived from the use of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA more speedily than from anything else.

MEDICINE for which like effects are falsely claimed, is abundant in the market, under many names, but the only preparation that has stood the test of time, and proved worthy of the world's confidence, is

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

A full supply of the ANNUAL HERALDS re now on hand. Newsdealers and others should avail themselves at once to send in their orders. No better evidence of Southern California's advantages could be sent to Eastern friends.

News Notes.

The municipal reports for the year ending October 31, 1886, were issued yesterday.

The sales of real estate placed on record yesterday amounted to $589,445 and this is said to be a dull season.

Lizzie Lopez yesterday was tried and convicted of smoking opium before Justice Austin. She will be sentenced today.

About 100 persons arrived in town yesterday from San Bernardino to attend the grand opera at the pavilion last night.

The police force, both the mounted officers and those on foot, made a splendid appearance at Dr. Baker's funeral yesterday.

The Sunset train, due last night at 7 o'clock, was detained by a wreck on the line in Arizona and failed to arrive till early this morning.

A man named Hull was brought from Pasadena insane yesterday. He was quite violent, and is now in the county jail and will be examined to-day.

Wm. Harding, a laborer employed on a building near the Temple street schoolhouse, fell down a ladder and had his head crushed by a hod which he carried.

Work has been begun in Precipice cañon on some minor tunnels for the water company, and all produce water. The main tunnel has not been commenced.

Travelers will please observe that the cars of the Southern Pacific company that leave Los Angeles at 9:15 A. M., going north, will, on and after to-day, go to San Buenaventura.

For once the Times has scored a victory, and Colonel Boyce and the rest can now gnash their teeth in impotent fury. A nine of Times printers yesterday defeated a Tribune team in a game of base ball by a score of 39 to 11.

About seventy persons will arrive in Los Angeles to-night from Anaheim to attend the opera. They will leave the cars at First street, where the City Railway Company will have a supply of cars sufficient to convey them to the Opera House at once.

Deputy Sheriff Cruz yesterday tied his horse in front of Lankershim's mill, while he went inside. The whistle blew and frightened the animal, which attempted to break loose, and in its struggles fell over and wrecked the buggy. The horse was badly hurt.

On Friday evening of this week the young ladies of Trinity M. E. Church South will give a strawberry festival at the church on Fort street, between Fifth and Sixth streets. This will be an enjoyable occasion. The young ladies will look their fairest and serve all comers impartially.

It is stated by some very poorly informed people that the A., T. & S. F. will shortly build a line from this city to San Francisco, passing up the coast. These railroad rumors are mostly started by newspaper reporters short on items, or by people who have land for sale along the line of the projected road.

An increased force has been put on the work for completing the approach to the Buena Vista bridge, so that it is likely to be done "in the sweet subsequently." The only advantage gained by the useless height of the bridge is the fact that it gives a good chance to use the earth in the hill to widen Buena Vista street.

W. J. Buckingham leaves to-day for Buffalo, N. Y., where he goes as a representative to the International Convention of Los Angeles Typographical Union, No. 174. Mr. Buckingham will visit his old home in Devonshire, England before his return to California. His many friends wish him a safe journey and a speedy return.

The plans for the enlargement of the First National banking rooms have been prepared. They embrace the construction of a building in the rear of the present edifice, and double vaults in the extension. The lot is 138 feet in depth, and affords the opportunity of doubling the present space for banking purposes, which will be done by this enlargement. When Mr. Spence purchased the site of this bank for $500 per front foot many persons thought him demented; but now, when, at a valuation of $3000 per front foot, they have been able to change their minds.

Excursion to Beaumont.

The excursion to Beaumont yesterday was very largely attended, and that the guests were well treated is attested by the following resolution which was drawn up and presented:

In view of the many courtesies which we have received at the hands of the gentlemen at the head of the excursion, namely, Messrs. H. C. Sigler, Berge and others interested in the Southern California Investment Co.; we, the undersigned hereby express our appreciation of their untiring efforts in our behalf. Signed, Arthur F. Madame Janish.

Next Monday this talented actress, supported by a strong company, will open at the Grand Opera House under the management of Mr. M. B. Leavitt. Theatre goers have a great feast in store for them when Mme. Janish will appear in Sardou's "Andrea." Mme. Janish is an Austrian lady, a very remarkable personage as well as an actress of wonderful ability. Wherever she has appeared she has met with crowded houses.

The New Overland.

The extension of the Southern Utah railway, mentioned in yesterday's HERALD, from Bullionville to Los Angeles attracted much attention on the street. All who considered the matter thought that such a line through the vast mining basin of the continent would add very largely to the business of the city of Los Angeles. Such a line as was therein indicated would open at least fifty mining camps to the trade of this city and make a demand for bacon, butter, cheese, beans, lard, flour, potatoes, oranges, wine, brandy and vegetables of every kind. All persons who cultivate crops for sale are interested in the construction of this road.

People's Store.

We expect to be reminded of one of our Christmas days for our handkerchief sale which is to take place to-day comprises the most select and handsome line ever offered, and we fear that our counter room will hardly prove adequate to the rush. We will give you an idea of a few of the many styles to be sold for 15c each. The first is a handsome hemstiched, embroidered in four corners with colored embroidery, and has never been sold for less than 35c. Another is an extra fine linen colored bordered handkerchief, which we have sold time and time again at 50c. Another is a fine linen, wide striped and block bordered. This handkerchief we consider the most stylish and best value of them all. The gent's handkerchiefs are manufacturers' samples, and they vary in price and quality. In selecting these goods you will have to depend upon your own judgment. Some of them are worth as high as 75c, and none worth less than 25c, and will be sold at 12½c. Here is an opportunity that will never present itself again, and we wish all our patrons to take advantage of it.

In our domestic department we will sell to-day gray and brown plaid dress goods for summer garments at 6½c a yard, just one-half the regular price.

We have on special sale to-day six different styles of boys' shirt waists, comprising fancy percale, navy blue, cheviot and white waists. None of them have been sold for less than 50c. To-day we will sell them at 25c. Six waists will be the limit to each person.

Something new and pretty: Lawn chemisettes in pink, blue, white and red will be sold to-day at 10c each; worth 25c.

Our "N. P." corsets, same as the French "C. P." corset, will be sold to-day at 98c.

A GREAT DAY IN OUR SHOE DEPARTMENT.

Baby's shoes to-day at 25c; worth 50c.

Ladies' worked button-hole, Curocos kid shoes at $1.98. This is our regular $2.50 shoe.

Ladies' pebble goat, worked button-hole, shoe at $1.50. An extra good quality, and one that we can recommend; worth fully $2.25.

Ladies' French kid shoes, $3.50; worth $4.50.

Ladies' low-cut shoes, 98c; worth $1.25.

In our Domestic Department, we will offer checked Nainsook at 7½c; worth 12½c.

Embroidered scarf shawls, in all shades, will be sold to-day at $1.25; worth $2.25.

On our lace counter we will offer a six-inch wide Oriental lace, in several different colors and patterns, at 10c a yard; worth 25c.

Our Dress Goods Department will offer a line of 38-inch invisible stripe shades at 25c a yard, worth 40c.

Also, in the same department, will be offered striped satin and silks, in dark and light shades, at 49c, and sold heretofore at 98c. PEOPLE'S STORE.

CATARRH.

THE TERM CATARRH IS APplied to a peculiar disorder of the nostrils and adjacent parts, which prevails to an alarming extent and is productive of very serious consequences.

The most prominent and characteristic features is a morbid discharge from the head, varying in its nature at different times.

In some there is an almost constant flow of clear, acid fluid, but oftener an offensive, purulent, or muco-purulent, greenish-yellow matter is secreted, which accumulates in the nostrils or drops into the throat, necessitating its frequent removal by blowing the nose or expectoration, and often by both processes. Sometimes patients feel as though their whole head was in a state of rottenness, so great is the amount of matter discharged and so fetid is its odor. The patient is greatly annoyed by the constant dropping into the throat of the morbid matter from the head, and as a recumbent position naturally favors the flow down ward, his rest is frequently disturbed from this cause. Many sufferers are obliged to lie with the head very much elevated in order to sleep with some degree of comfort.

In others a tough, viscid and offensive phlegm collects behind and above the soft palate, in the passage between the throat and head, adhering to the parts with gluish tenacity. Its lodgment embarrasses respiration and creates a sensation of irritation and uneasiness in the affected locality, which gives rise to a constant and almost irresistible desire to relieve the discomfort by drawing the mucous into the throat so as to eject it by the mouth. This practice, popularly known as "hawking," is characteristic of catarrh, and proves as embarrassing to the one affected as it is disagreeable to those around him.

Again, the offensive matter hardens and deposits itself on the membrane in the shape of dry, hard concretions, which are discharged by way of the nostrils or throat in lumps or fragments of a deep green tint. In some cases these incrustations accumulate to such an extent as to form a regular plug in the nose, which obstructs breathing and produces serious discomfort. So firmly do these incrustations adhere to the point of attachment that their removal usually requires the most violent efforts; not unfrequently they have to be torn from the membrane. Occasionally a solid cast of notable size is expelled, on which there are generally traces of blood, but in some cases the cast presents a tubular appearance, being of exact shape of the nasal cavity. This condition is indicative of ulceration, which in time may destroy the bony structure of the nose and produce a subsequent flattening of that organ.

Cases are occasionally met with in which a thick, viscid, slimy secretion coats the membrane of the nasal cavities and then putrifies, giving rise to a stench which is really overpowering and sufficiently fetid to poison the atmosphere of a whole room; and there are others in which all the secretions of the membrane are suspended, causing an unpleasant feeling of dryness, heat and feverishness in the head and nose—a condition popularly known as "Dry Catarrh."

The disease speedily extends to the air cavities of the bones of the forehead and face, giving rise to a distressing sensation of heavy weight or compression over the forehead, especially in the region above and between the eyes, and to a feeling of fullness, heat, irritation, soreness or pain in the nostrils near the root of the nose, as well as in the upper part of the throat, above and behind the soft palate. Sometimes there is pain obstinately fixed in some particular part, as in the temple, on the top of the head, at the back of the neck, or behind the orbits, and occasionally pain manifests itself in the face of so severe a character that it is frequently mistaken for neuralgia.

The breath is always tainted and at times assumes an exceeding fetid and sickening odor. In some cases it becomes so revoltingly offensive as to render the sufferer an object of disgust to himself as well as to others.

The nasal membrane is thickened and congested, causing the nose to be stopped up, sometimes on one side, sometimes on the other, and often on both, giving rise to a disagreeable stuffy sensation in the head, and occasioning violent and protonhad paroxysms of sneezing.

The voice is weak, indistinct and husky, or of a nasal character, displaying a sort of sniffing quality. Oftentimes there is a continuous hoarseness and discordance. There is also a sense of irritation in the throat and frequent attempts to clear the parts of phlegm, producing the sound "hem" more or less forcibly. In some cases patients complain of an uncomfortable feeling of fullness, or a choky sensation in the throat and in others of a distressing and almost constant dryness, for the temporary relief of which they have to swallow frequently. Others, again, speak of constant bad or nauseous taste in the mouth or throat.

The stomach generally suffers more or less and becomes weak and irritable; the appetite is capricious and nearly always bad in the morning. The patient is languid, unable to perform mental or physical labor with the usual facility; is nervous, depressed in spirits, at times fearful, timid, agitated and inclined to drowsiness and sleep, the memory weakened and permanent impairment threatened.

The mucus membrane soon becomes morbidly sensitive to unfavorable influences, and in spite of the utmost care becomes affected from the slightest causes, so that at last a breath of wind upon the lining of the nose or throat becomes productive of a cold, and gives rise to serious disturbances of the respiratory organs. Thus the patient is subject to frequent and repeated colds, each attack aggravating the disease by giving it a new impulse and involving a larger extent or surface than its predecessor. In this manner the difficulty spreads from organ to organ, invading the throat, larynx, trachea and bronchial tubes, until, encroaching further and further, it reaches the finer ramifications of the bronchi, when but a slight impulse is required to send it to the lungs. Catarrh may, and often does, affect other organs in the body, especially those containing a mucus membrane, such as the stomach, bowels, kidneys, etc.

By the employment of proper inhalations in the form of medicated vapor (not steam or spray) we are able to produce immediate and direct action upon the diseased surface in the pharynx and nasal passages, for air will fluidits way into the most remote and intricate cavities, where it is utterly impossible to make fluid applications. By these means every case can be cured.

OZŒNA.

Ozœna is the professional or technical name given to the advanced form of catarrh in which ulceration has eaten through the membrane lining of the nose to the cartilage of the bone. Any case of catarrh may end in ozœna, but it most frequently occurs in those who are naturally scrofulous. The discharge takes place through the nostrils or through the throat, and is generally of a yellowish or greenish yellow color, frequently tinged with blood, and almost always attended by an offensive smell. In the language of Dr. Wood, of Philadelphia, "The disease is one of the most obdurate and disagreeable which the physician has to encounter. In bad cases the breath of the patient becomes so revolting as to isolate him from society and to render him an object of disgust even to himself." In some cases pieces of bone become separated and slough off, leaving deep, unhealthy ulcers, which secrete a bloody matter and are extremely difficult to heal. After ozœna has continued for some time the sense of smell usually becomes impaired and often lost. Deafness is one of the most common consequences, and results from its extension through the eustachian tubes to the internal ear. Pains in the head and over the frontal sinuses, impairing memory, and even insanity frequently springs from its extension to the brain. The greatest danger, however, because the most common, is that it will extend downward and affect the lungs. In most cases of pulmonary disease catarrh is present in some degree, and in many instances it causes a large share of the patient's discomfort.

Besides these grave consequences, all of which are liable to spring from scrofulous catarrh or ozœna, there are others which, if less dangerous, are sufficiently unpleasant. It occasions great unhappiness to thousands of both sexes, by isolating them and preventing their settlement in life. An offensive running from the nose, with foul breath, is about as great a calamity as can befall young people, for no young people should ever think of marrying while afflicted with catarrh.

Those who visit Southern California, after trying every known remedy and failing in obtaining health through climatic changes alone, would do well to try this wonderful system, which is revolutionizing the whole medical science and effecting cures in this very city in persons given up to die.
